Mario Kessa releases “Melbourne Weather,” a candid, emotionally layered new single that draws a powerful parallel between unpredictable love and the famously changeable climate of his hometown. Fully written, produced, and engineered by Mario, the track blends sharp lyricism with atmospheric production and an expressive vocal performance.

“Melbourne Weather” is out everywhere now.

About Mario Kessa

Mario Kessa is an independent artist whose journey began in early high school, where he first started writing music. Classically trained in piano and music theory, with AMEB certifications in both, Mario’s foundation combines technical mastery with artistic vision. His multi-instrumental talents and deep knowledge of music theory enable him to blend technical precision with creative ingenuity.

On October 23, 2020, Mario made his debut with the release of his Paradise EP, a five-track introduction that showcased his ability to weave emotive storytelling into his music. However, it was his full-length debut album, Better View, released on July 29, 2022, that truly defined his artistic vision. Spanning two years of dedication, the album reflects Mario's tireless work ethic as he single-handedly took on every role—from songwriting and recording to engineering, production, mastering, and beyond. This level of independence required extensive research, continual learning, and a relentless drive to perfect his craft.

Since the release of Better View, Mario has dropped multiple singles, each showcasing his evolution as a sound engineer, music producer, songwriter, and lyricist. Entirely self-produced, his music stands as a testament to the boundless possibilities of creative control. Beyond the studio, Mario connects with his audience through his behind-the-scenes (BTS) YouTube series, offering a rare glimpse into his creative process and the intricate work behind his sound.

Based in Melbourne, Mario Kessa represents the future of independent artistry—a musician who redefines what it means to be self-made in today's music landscape.
